Duty Must Be Paid On Christmas Gifts

The tax collector at the impression that at Christmas time the customs officials allow all imports duty-free, but this is not so.

In reviewing the officials made it plain that the duty must be charged on all parcels of the gift value.

However, as a result of Sir William MacKenzie's act of 1929, small parcels which duty does not exceed $1.00 will pass duty free.

According to the most of the customs offices, however, the limit of discretion is used in handling parcels of the family size and the goods worth more than $20,000, no duty is charged.

Small duty is levied on a single item of goods.

Persons who have been under the impression that Christmas goods are duty free have the chance to learn that imports of large bulk of goods around Christmas time in an effort to evade duty.

The officials state that at the present time there are a number of cases where the importers claim are Christmas gifts items within the customs warehouse with the payment of the duties.

Province Does Big Homestead Business During Last Month

November saw a total of 765 land registrations at the five land offices of Alberta, according to an announcement made yesterday by Hon. R. G. Reid, minister of lands and mines.

Of these 618 were first homestead filings, 111 second homestead filings and 20 soldier grants.

Of the five agencies Edmonton took the lead with 360 entries, of which 207 were first homesteads, 70 second homesteads and 20 soldier grants.

Calgary had a total of 21 entries, 15 of which were first homesteads, 2 second homesteads and three soldier grants.

Red Deer had 117 entries, 77 first homestead filings with seven soldier grants while Peace River had a total of 132 entries divided into 100 first homesteads, 14 second and 10 soldier grants.

The Minister expressed his satisfaction with the number of homesteads registered during the past quarter of the year and indicated that he hoped that settlers continued to flock to the province in spite of apparent depression.

The opening of new settlements for increased settlement brought about a great deal.

Oil Production For October Shows Big Increase In Alberta.

Alberta oil production during October totalled 156,560 barrels according to a statement made on Monday by Hon. R. G. Reid, minister of lands and mines.

This is a large increase over the production of October, 1929, and is almost as great as the total production of 1928.

The figure for the month reached 168,643 barrels.

The October production was the highest ever recorded in the province. September last month also reached a record for the month.

Speaking of the results, the Minister said that production in the field contributed to the Turner Valley, as other fields have given disappointing yields.

He said that the previous month production was divided as follows: naphtha 150,040 barrels, light crude 91,900, heavy crude 720.

October, 1929 production was divided thus: naphtha 94,940 tons, medium crude 47,750; heavy crude 1,700.

In October, 1929 the Red Conifer had a record output of 46,000 barrels while in October of this year the field contributed 6,616 barrels.

Production of light crude and heavy crude increased during October.

The Minister expressed his satisfaction with the results.

A special meeting of the city council has been called for December 10, at which the city fathers will discuss the proposed extensions to the city boundaries, coming in the form of a bill introduced by Mr. D. Anderson, a full member of the city finance committee.

"It is facts that we want in our city," he said, "not opinions."

Provincial health authorities have issued a general health warning which is to be as thorough and far-reaching as possible.

At five o'clock Monday afternoon an inquest on one of the persons who died in the hospital operation was held at Howard and McLeod's undertaking parlour. Dr. A. D. Anderson, a full member of the city council, also outlined the steps that are being taken by the provincial health department to assist the city to cope with the situation.

The new Canadian National hospital at Vancouver, which has been completed to the extent of ten stories, according to R. C. W. McLean, manager of the natural resources, Canadian National Railways, who was a visitor to the building, will be open for Vancouver Monday evening.

MONDAY, DECEMBER 1, 1930

Alberta Oil Production

Alberta wells during August produced 125,725 barrels of oil. That was an increase of 25,000 barrels over the figure for August, 1929.

The curious fact is that popular interest in oil production has been going down as fast as actual oil production figures have been going up. Companies and the quaternary oil stocks suggest that unless Alberta investors will altogether insame a year ago they are passing up just now the greatest opportunity that is likely to come in the course of time.

The important point to observe is that production is going up, not that quotations for stocks have gone down. The established companies are carrying on, despite the preceding depression, and the number serving shareholders with barrels brought in, located in widely separated fields. Barriers the discovery of some new source of power, the future of Alberta as a great oil producing area is beyond question.

A GOOD CHOICE

The taxpayers of Edmonton will agree very generally that Mayor Douglass made a good choice of an investigator of the city police department.

Senator Griesbach stands high in the estimation of the public. He is a well-qualified citizen with whom no consideration will be allowed to weigh for a moment against the right of the public to efficient and sufficient police protection.

What is equally important to the task in hand is the political status of the man born in the police matters. He inherits the fine traditions which made the R.N.W.M.P. the pride of Canada and the object of emulate by all other departments.

It can safely be assumed that under his direction the investigation will be prosecuted without delay, "fuss" or publicity, and that when it is ended the city council will be told of the findings of the minister in the police force, and what ought to be done to place the department upon a thoroughly effective footing.

THE NEW SALESMAN

The selection of a new manager for the selling of wheat is the wheat problem is a matter of interest and practical importance far beyond the ranks of those organizations. No western business enterprise, and in particular which does business in these provinces, is outside the influence of the grain commission organization with its handling, sells, or with holds from sale, half the wheat that is grown on the prairies.

It may be that the continued existence of the pools will depend upon the successful marketing of the enormous amount of wheat they have undertaken to sell on behalf of the growers. And in the existing circumstances every merchant and banker, and every outside firm and every outside firm with branch establishments or investments in these provinces, will benefit or suffer according as the grower does or does not get the last cent that can be had for him out of the world of the world surplus and depressed prices.

It is conceivable everywhere that the selection of Mr. J. I. McFarland would be a happy one, and that he is as qualified as any man in the country to extract the pools from their unquestionably serious position and to secure for the growers concerned the best prices possible in the condition. Everyone who has a stake in the west, and particularly in the extent to which business is governed by the pools, the grower gets his wheat, is bound to hope that the new salesman for the pools may succeed beyond all expectations and present prospects.

VICTORIA AND EDMONTON

Edmonton readers will be interested in the following paragraph which appeared some time ago in the Victoria, B. C. Times:

"In his reply to the delegation which waited upon him, Mr. McFarland said that he had written to the government to grant to defray the cost of beautifying Victoria, and that the capital should present an appropriate appearance."

The Premier also intimated that the capital should make a suitable and customary promise of suitable consideration meant that the capital should do something to assist at once to discuss the subject with his colleague.

The delegation from the Victoria council asked that the Government make a grant of $25,000 per year toward the cost of carrying through a specific scheme of city beautification. They supported the claim by pointing out that this sum is $600 less than the amount paid by the province every year from taxation imposed upon the property that is held in the city by the province tax free. From the tenor of this editorial, the Government is inclined to admit the claim and make the grant.

Edmonton is also a provincial capital. An effort at civic improvement is also under way here, where beautification is needed a good deal more than in Victoria. The services of the pools by the Alberta Government in Edmonton is far greater than that held by the British Columbia provincial administration in Victoria, and the amount of provincial property from the pools is correspondingly greater. And, it may be added, the finances of Alberta are much better conditioned to meet a demand to the same effect of beautifying the provincial capital than are the finances of British Columbia.

Edmonton has not thus far made any very serious effort to get the Provincial Government to take hand in the beautification of the provincial capital. The favorable reception that was given by the Government of British Columbia to the application from Victoria gives grounds for hope that the Alberta ministry would show a sympathetic attitude toward such a similar request from Edmonton. In any event it would be quite in order to give them the opportunity, and a formal invitation to make a financial demonstration of their interest in the town-planning movement which they inaugurated a year or so ago.

BANK OF MONTREAL ANNUAL STATEMENT

Striking evidence of the soundness of the banking system has been given by the strong statement the Bank of Montreal is forwarding to its shareholders for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1930.

The statement of the premier bank is always looked for with a great deal of interest. Unlike the year before, the statement of the fiscal year, on account of the complicated economic conditions that have prevailed throughout the world.

On this account there will be special attention given to the statement of the premier bank.

It is to be hoped that the statement of the showing not only to provide for the year been but also to allow for a return of dividends and bonus, but also to allow of an appropriate sum for premises and the carrying forward of a current balance to profit and loss account.

Crisis Looms Up in British Politics

AMUSEMENTS

AT THE CAPITOL

Admirable "The Cat and the Canary," a stage play that achieved a success seldom coming to a theatrical production. "The Cat Creeps" arrived at the Capitol Saturday morning at a three day engagement.

The story is a hair-raising thriller of events that took place in one evening over a house that has not been occupied for 20 years since a group of relatives gathered after a period of gambling and almost unexplainable misfortune which led to an unexpected arrival.

At the Empire, "The Cat" will run for four days.

At the Capitol, depend on it to the largest extent for their success on the preservation of the mystery element in the play. It is the burlesque when Queen Victoria is young bride made her first visit to the grey capital of the North and all Scotland had thronged to the city to see her. In this a matter of history she behaved rather badly and left her boat in the middle of the river. At a pointed time and neither the city fathers nor the troops were able to rescue her.

The story of "Margold" centers around the love affairs of a man named Margold, his name, her somewhat restricted life as a man near Edinburgh, his wife, a woman older than he, his lover, and her ultimate escape into the realm of youth and happiness. It is a simple and charming story which keeps the audience in a seat by the state of merriment until there are moments of real pathos and drama.

At THE EMPIRE

The dramatic season at the Empire theatre reopens tonight with a three day performance which employed the astonishingly large number of 100 persons.

They say the theatrical career was predetermined. His father and grandfather before him were actors, and he, too, from the time he was born, has had his career cut out for him.

Janey, clever young juvenile in "Shooting Straight," new Richard Dix drama now at the Rialto, was born to be an actor, one, but has appeared in more than a dozen talking pictures before he reached his present laurels for his role in "Shooting Straight."

At THE WOOLCOTT

Supplementing the show and predicted a brilliant future for young Eddie De Mille, the King Vidor picture that opened a three day engagement at the Empress the other Saturday, "Hell Harbor" will continue until Sunday.

The story has to do with the Lincoln, New Mexico, cattle men's war, an epic of the dying days of the "last best west" of the United States. Eddie De Mille ("Kid") was one of the most notorious and most dangerous of the outlaws, and he fell into the trap only 21 when in his heyday was feasted by foes and respected by friends.

We intend to fight through," explained Sir. Hon. Arthur Henderson, the foreign secretary, in a wavy-edged speech yesterday.

"We have no intention of having an election unless we are forced to do so by overwhelming pressure from our constituents."

Commons on some vital question in the event of an election, he said, had been left open until an appeal to the country.

And of course, he added, the election would be held in December.

Mr. Herbert Samuel, one of the leading members of the Labour party, when he spoke at Safran Walden, Essex, said: "It would be to the national interest," said Sir Herbert, "to precipitate a political crisis now."

He said that the disturbance by the disturbance and uncertainty which a general election would bring about would be momentous, when the representatives of India are meeting to solve the most momentous question of the century within the Empire in our time."

At THE WOOLCOTT

Supplementing the feature is a series of front rank shorts, including the "Fatty" news and a comedy featuring those two old favorites of screenland, Marlene Dietrich and Eddie De Mille.

At THE RIALTO

Bathers of Hollywood, attributing an unusual business depression to photo activity, have been meeting in their hours honing razors in anticipation of the day Paramount comes to town.

The situation was bad because men became epidemic on Hollywood streets and boulevards—and bathers were, for a time, the only ones who could get away from them across their empty chairs.

In the opinion of those who witnessed the scene, Harry Cooper and William Boyd staged with an acre of heavily "wooded" Hollywood as a background, this struggle is the greatest hand-to-hand encounter ever staged for the sound cameras.

At THE PRINCESS

Variety has been the keynote of Fredric March's screen career, and he has been equally at home on the stage for the screen, his parts have included such widely varied characters as the "King of the Hill" in Ruth Chatterton's "Sarah and Son" and the hard-boiled sailor in "China Girl" and the "Duke of Navy." In all, he has played more than eleven roles the latest of which is the title character in "Manslaughter," the Princess' feature today, Monday.

FEW PEOPLE WIN —IN THIS RACE

It doesn't matter who wins the race as long as it isn't a tie. There are so many things that can happen at this crucial time, it isn't worth taking the chance. Your car may stall—the train may be going faster than you think—the crossing may be too rough.

A few seconds will not make any difference when you arrive at your destination. If it is a joy ride, don't turn fun into tragedy.

You seldom beat the train. It is a foolish chance to take. "Lose a minute and Save a Life" is a good slogan to think of when crossing a railroad track.

This wonderful campaign made possible through the generous support of the following:

Conibear of Fort Smith is Rhodes Scholar

Rhodes Scholar

PROMINENT IN ACADEMIC AND SPORTING LIFE

Popular Student Will go to Oxford University for Three Years

Kenneth Conibear, senior student in the Faculty of Arts at the University of Alberta, was one of the stepping stones in Albert Parson Terhune, author of "The Little Colonel," to fame. He is a Rhodes scholar to represent the province at Oxford. Kenneth, a student in Philosophy, plans to continue his studies at Cambridge at Oxford, doing research work that may lead to the degree of Doctor of Philosophy.

The choice of the Rhodes selection committee for Kenneth has been outstanding at the university, particularly in the winter sports activities. During the past three years he has earned a scholarship in every class in all his studies, which means that he has had an average of at least 90 per cent in every course of work.

In his freshman year he was managing editor of the Gateway, the official weekly newspaper of the Students' Association. Last year he was associated editor, and last year was editor-in-chief. He has been a member of university debating circles, having displayed marked forensic ability. In the fall of 1929, when last year he was also a member of the cast of the spring play, "The Adoration of the Magi," he was a dramatic society and the Edmonton Little Theatre.

Ken Conibear has made himself known as a rugby player and also as a member of the football team. He is a great athlete, and during his time at Fort Smith, North-West Territories, where he has lived since coming to Canada from England as a child, he received his entire public school education at the hands of the teacher or teachers of the local educational facilities in the north. He has now completed nine years of school at Fort Smith, and the aid of teachers, particularly the high school curriculum, he then "came up" for two more years at Victoria High School, Victoria, B.C., and twelve studies at Victoria high school, Victoria, B.C., and twelve studies at Victoria high school, Victoria, B.C.

Mr. Conibear will complete his work at the University of Alberta this year, earning his degree of Bachelor of Arts, and he will probably return to Canada to complete his studies at the Western Ontario Agricultural Eighty-two miles are in the shipment to St. John's.

A number of goats are also being shipped to the United States, and Reynard Special which is the designation of the train bearing the animals, will be sent to the market for the first time.

The goats, of a special breed, are also to form the nucleus of a breeding herd.

Several of the foxes coming to Edmonton have been prime winners at the Canadian Fox Trotting Congress, and in addition to this shipment Mr. McIntryne has sent his prize foxes to the United States to compete there at the Western Ontario Agricultural Eighty-two miles are in the shipment to St. John's.

All the animals are being shipped under the care of the American Pacific Grain Co. LTD., Charles Laro of the American Pacific Grain Association, who signed a contract with the Canadian National Express, with special arrangements on board the train.

The foxes, weighing 10 to 12 pounds, are from ranches of their champions and sons and daughters of champions.

The animals are some of the best left foxes on the American continent and will definitely rank in the top ten on the world ranks of the fox breeding industry.

When the new arrivals are shipped to the United States, the Farm will then be nearly bare of foxes, there being 100 foxes in a number of fisheries and marlins.

Veterans Prepare For Election Of Year's Officers

Over one hundred graves of Edmonton's war heroes are lying in the soil of the cemetery in the Edmonton cemetery, according to a report made at a meeting of the Canadian Legion Branch Standard Bearer Monday evening.

The report of the branch was that the first name had one leg broken, while the latter had both legs broken, and were buried in the Royal Alexandra hospital, where they were given no special attention. They are not in any danger.

Police Court

Roy Matay, alleged to have killed one Johnson of the sum of $75 following a drinking bout, was arraigned at the police court Monday.

Wilfred Duffy Chas. McLean and Harold Fisher, all transients, were each fined $20 and costs for vagrancy charges.

Craig L. Onton, charged with forgery and theft by impersonation, was fined $10 and costs, and was committed to jail, on vagrancy charges.

For press, Fred Deer, W. J. Hill, Frank V. P. Doherty, G. Beck, A. F. Fager, H. C. P. Moore, vice-president, Alex Riddell, W. B. Ross, general executive, T. G. McLean, manager, and H. M. Morris, A. Wright, Geo. W. Darling, Geo. W. W. Christie, and A. V. Ward.

John Christie, charged with driving a horse, was fined $10 and costs, with the option of 10 days in jail.

The executive is composed of eight members.

Police will be open from 1:30 p.m. and 8:30 p.m. on December 2 and 3.

NOT TOLD BY CHIEF SHUTE

Chief Shute: "Don't kid yourself, you're safer just had this stick taken away."

"There you are. You didn't even touch the gun."

Arrested One: "Well, finish not my fault." Why don you come to the point? I want to draw a line that straight."

The Bulletin's Daily Short Story From Real Life

By J. V. GOHAN

Pompton, Pa. Pinckney is a name. It is also another synonym for "coward." It is the name of a man of weakness. Pompton, it is true, is not a great lawyer, but not many men in the country have as much as he himself believes. His right to be a lawyer and his position as well, it must be admitted that this devilish disciple of Satan has been born with his shoulders above any of those who have attained the state of attorney and counselor at law.

Witnesses have been chosen to help him in his case, and he has been acclaimed as senior partner of many more successful law firms in the country. No one has seen to it that he is not diminished in his influence. Police authorities are unable to find any evidence of the "crime."

He is a companion, when he is in good humor, he will wax elogic about his drunkenness and his headaches. I succeeded in picking him up and throwing him off the bridge. "O, why, why did you do that?"

"My boy," I asked, "where is this?"

"I don't know. I wouldn't recognize it. The district attorney is here to see me again.

But, Mr. Pinckney,

we are unable to find any evidence of the "crime."

particular to themselves. I think you should be here." I said.

And so far, for my publicity for myself in concerned, in this set-tent with the selling of the story.

The lad, whom I shall call Jack Preston, has been employed by me for a number of years. He has seen to it that he is not diminished in his influence. Police authorities are unable to find any evidence of the "crime."

EXPLANATION OF SATURDAY'S CARTOON

THE ORIGIN OF THE WORD "MEANDER":

Meander, meaning winding or crooked, is derived from the ancient name of a river in Phrygia. This stream, which is proverbial for its winding and tortuous channel, is now known as the Menderes. It flows into the Aegean Sea opposite the island of Samos off the coast of Asia Minor.

THREE TOUCHDOWNS ON PASSES IN 4 MINUTES: With but four minutes left to play, Bend and Seaside were playing in the finals for the State Football Championship of Oregon in 1925, a pass from Tom O'Brien to Loomis brought the score to 10-0. After the kickoff Loomis brought the ball to Bend's 40-yard-line and on the next play passed to O'Brien for another touchdown. Seaside kicked off again and Loomis ran the ball down to Bend's 40-yard-line a second time, and for the third time Loomis passed to O'Brien for a third touchdown. It was Bend's game, 10-0.
